QUICK HARBOR ACTION URGED BULLETS FLY IN CONVICT SEARCH

POLL TAX VOID, NO PROVISION TO COLLECT IT

Nobody Will Collect Poll Tax
Because Legislature Forgot
That Phase

20 MEASURES TO REPEAL BILL

Bill Also Held Void Because It Was Not in Accordance With U. S. Constitution

SACRAMENTO, April 30.—Who's going to collect the poll tax?

If this question is put up to members of the board of equalization and other officers having to do with state finances, the answer will be that nobody will collect it, because it was learned today that the legislature forgot to make any arrangements for it.

Without enabling legislation, the tax simply doesn't exist, the officials say, so nobody is going to worry about it—including those at whom it was aimed for another two years.

Early in the session Assemblyman
George C. Cleveland of Watsonville, who backed the original amendment,
introduced a bill providing for collection of the money by county assessors. The legislature did not take kindly to the idea, however, and the bill died in committee before anybody thought of rescuing it.

The result is the legislature is on record as having failed to do something the constitution says it must do, and there will be no poll tax.
Meanwhile a group opposed to the poll tax is underfoot to be preparing to add another measure to the 20 already in prospect to repeal the amendment setting up the tax proposal.

W. L. Lane Seeks to Be Elected on His Past Record Here

One of the candidates in the race for councilman, who is making much headway in his campaign is W. L.
Lane. Lane has served the people of the city for a number of years, and has made an enviable record for himself, and he seeks to represent himself on the record he has made during his term of office.

The motto of Lane has always been a "square deal for everyone,"
and his every official act has been to carry out this aim.

This candidate came to Richmond
in 1901, when he was quite young,
and he has watched with a great deal of interest, the growth of Richmond, and has also taken a very active part in its upbuilding.

Lane's friends in Richmond, approach, and from reports received everyone of them are out in his behalf, making a very active canvass.

YOUNCE HEADS HOTEL SALES

Marked progress was made yesterday in the campaign for the Richmond Community Hotel in the appointment of Larkin Younce as general sales manager. Younce will have general charge of the intensive stock sale for the hotel which will be held in all probability some time the latter part of May. Those in charge of the campaign consider that the success of the hotel campaign
here has been given an added impetus in the selection and appointment of Younce.

Four division managers will be in charge of the four major divisions under Younce for the campaign which will be conducted by approximately 150 salesmen selected from those interested in Richmond and the community hotel.

The hotel headquarters reports that the work so far looks most encouraging and that the active financing of the new hotel will be in action
within a short time.

The four division managers will be selected and preliminary preparations made for the work of the teams among the prospects.

Every indication points to the fact that the campaign will be short and snappy and that only a few weeks remain before the contemplated hotel will be assured.

PRESIDENTS ROUND TABLE DEPLORES DELAY TACTICS ON HARBOR IMPROVEMENTS

REPRESENTATIVES OF CIVIC ORGANIZATIONS DEMAND IM-MEDIATE HARBOR ACTION FROM RICHMOND
CITY COUNCIL

Immediate action in building Wharf Number 2 was urged upon the city council by the Richmond Presidents Round Table at their weekly meeting at the Chamber of Commerce rooms yesterday afternoon.

A resolution was passed deploring the long delay in obeying the mandate of the people as expressed in the bond election of 1912, and urging cessation of the dilatory tactics which have resulted in nothing being done since the council passed its resolution of intent early in March.

The resolution, addressed to the City Council, is as follows:

WHEREAS thirteen years ago the people voted bonds to build Wharf Number 2 on the Inner Harbor, and WHEREAS the wharf has not yet been built, and

WHEREAS the lack of good faith shown by the city of Richmond in withholding this pledged cooperation of the city with the Federal Government in developing and using Richmond Inner Harbor is to be deplored,
and

WHEREAS the reason given for repeated postponements of action is the failure of the city to secure by negotiation a right of way down Eighth or Ninth Street, and

WHEREAS such right-of-way could be easily secured by court action atter the wharf is built, and

WHEREAS the United States government has again demanded action by the city of Richmond, and offered to give $125,000 more this year for further dredging in the harbor provided we begin immediate work on wharf Number 2, and

WHEREAS the long delay in building Wharf Number 2 has cost the city of Richmond untold thousands in payroll, and has set back the development program of the Inner Harbor at least ten years.

NOW THEREFORE BE IT RE-SOLVED BY THE RICHMOND PRESI-DENTS' ROUND TABLE that the City Council and the proper city officials take steps at once to secure the dredging permit, to secure bids for the construction of wharf number 2, and in other ways, before July 1, 1925, give the United States Government to understand that the people of this city mean to cooperate fully in developing Richmond Harbor, and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED
that it is the deliberate sense of
the PRESIDENTS ROUND TABLE
that such dredging and construction may and should proceed without any reference to the failure thus far to secure by negotiation a right of way down Ninth Street, and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED
that copies of this resolution be sent to every civic organization in the city of Richmond, together with a transcript of the minutes of the PRESIDENTS ROUND TABLE meeting at which it was adopted, setting forth the reasons for this resolution and requesting similar action
by those several organizations.

17 LOCAL CLUBS.
The Presidents Round Table is secretaries of seventeen organizations in Richmond, viz: Chamber of Commerce, Realty Board, Builders

gressive Association, South Richmond

COSPER SEEKS JUDGE'S RECALL

"Eshop" Wilbert Leroy Cosper of the Christian Philosophical Institute, now bankrupt, sentenced to serve 90 days in jail and pay a fine of $500 claims that 1100 of his followers
in this county will attempt to recall Judge Henry V. Alvarado. This statement came from Cosper following a meeting in Oakland last night of Costa Costa followers. They will, he claims, nominate petition for the judges recall. The judge is that Judge Alvarado failed to protect Cosper's constitutional rights also neglected the legal rights of the American people.

Cosper named as heads of the movement in this county, Mrs. Edna Delgado of El Centro, and Mrs.
Mary Richard of Richmond, all prominent women, he claims. Cosper was convicted of violating the State medical act by holding a clinic at the bedside of Mrs. Otto Dietrich of Richmond upon the delivery of a child.

put those under their charge through the regular military routine. Inter-held.

FUSILLADE IS FIRED AT PAIR, BUT WRONG ONE

Sixty Farmers, Two Airplanes Unite in Search for Escaped
San Quentin Convicts

SCARED HINDUS FIRED UPON

Former Hiding Place of Fugitives
Is Found in Sacramento Apartment House, Claim

SACRAMENTO, April 30.—One of the most exciting situations that has developed in the search for Joe Tanko
and Floyd Hall, escaped San Quentin murderers, ended in at least temporary disappointment this afternoon. The two convicts were reported surrounded in a grain field between Hood and Franklin, in the delta region, 20 miles south of Sacramento.

Sixty officers, and two airplanes were joined in the search and farmers reported a gun battle in progress. But late in the afternoon two scared Hindus, who had been hunting rabbits, were captured in the grain field, where they had taken refuge.

They had been seen on the road and pursued. Frightened, they ran,
and a volley of bullets, followed them. When finally routed out they told their story to a bitterly disappointed posse. Search of the region continued, however, in the hope that Tanko and Hall may also be hiding in the same grain field.

POSSES INSISTENT.

Posses who sighted two suspicious characters in that neighborhood today insist the men were the convicts and not the Hindu hunters.

Sacramento police today found the place in Sacramento where Tanko
and Hall hid from April 17, the day
H. J. Fitzberg, Sacramento merchant, was slain, until April 21, when they shot Policeman Clyde Nunn in an effort to break through the cordon of officers and escape.

It was the Dale apartments, 620 M. street, operated by Mrs. Fred Reis-enberg, wife of a fireman.

Sunday, May 3, Is Americanism Day Railroad Blamed In Crossing Crash On Giant Highway

Observance of Americanism Day,
Sunday, May 3, throughout California
has been requested by State Commandant Nathan F. Combs, of the American Legion. All posts in the state have been notified to observe the day.

A nation wide call has been broadcast by National Commander James
A. Drown, asking ministers of all denominations to speak from the pulpit on "For God and Country" next Sunday.

Americanism Day was established by the Legion five years ago as an offset to the annual First of May demonstrations of "reds" and communist organizations. Commander Combs says.

The jury exonerated the train
crew and the driver of the machine from all blame. They censured the Santa Fe railroad company, however, for not having a warning signal at this crossing and recommended that one be installed at once.

When opening of the accident last night, Coroner Donnelly stated that this crossing was the most dangerous in the county. The driver of a machine or the engineer is not able to see the crossing until within about 75 feet of it, as the train is coming out of a cut and going around a curve at the same time, Donnelly stated.

It was brought out at the inquest that the machine was not seen by the train crew until within some 75 feet of it, and as the train was traveling at a rate of 50 miles an hour it was impossible to avert the crash.

On the jury were Ben Armit, F.
G. Molitor, Harry S. Curry, Homer
E. Newell, John Hooper, C. G. Johnson and Henry Westlofer.

MOTHER'S EXAM

The Parent-Teacher association of Kansas City, Mo., has sent out a questionnaire to mothers of children in the schools. These are some of the posers.

"If 16-year-old Mary persists in reading blacklisted literature, what would you do?"

"If you discover her sneaking in through the window some morning at 3 o'clock, what would you do?"

"How do you legislate in regard to her riding alone with boys in motor cars after dark?"

"Do you meet all the boys that come to call on her?"

"Do you limit the hours of these calls?"

"If 17-year-old Johnny prefers the 'hamburger joints' on the corner to his own home, what do you advise?"

"If you found a flask in the pocket of his new dress suit, how would you solve the problem?"

Some queries would be pretty hard, coming out of a blue sky. But they do not. Any parent with moral weather sense could have read the barometer and seen the approaching clouds. The parents to whom these problems seem sudden will have trouble solving them. But parents of younger children may learn in time.

If wholesome and interesting reading matter is found in profusion on the home table during Mary's early years, she will acquire a standard. When she reads an unpleasant book out of curiosity, she will know it for a shoddy thing, not a sound one.

If home is made cheerful and attractive, if the wholesome is always held up as the normal, slight deviations from the rule will be of little consequence.

Teaching "self-reverence, self-knowledge, self-control" is not an easy job. It is a hard one, taking all any parent has of backbone, perseverance and imagination. But it is begun with the baby and continued with the runabout and the grammar child, then the adolescent may be let out on a long leash and the youth will take care of himself.

FROZEN SPELLING

Simplified spelling is looking up, the simplified spelling reports. Inquiries and requests for literature on this subject are increasing, here and in other English-speaking countries. Many newspapers have accepted the modernized spelling of such words as though, although, through, catalog, demagog, pedagog etc., which merely drop an unpronounced "ugh" or "ue."

Nevertheless progress is slow, even with the modest demands that the simplified spellers have felt safe in making so far. Changing our spelling, even in the interest of brevity, ease and efficiency, proves to be one of the hardest reconstruction tasks of the times.

It is harder, really, than it has ever been before. English spelling in the past was far more varied and flexible, and has been subjected to several sweeping revisions in the last thousands years or so, always for the purpose of bringing the spelling once more into harmony with changing pronunciation and making it more uniform. And worlds never tottered when letters were altered or dropped.

The trouble now comes from too much literacy. With more reading, writing and printing, letters tend more to become fixed. People see words spelled (spelt) so many thousand times in a certain way that that way comes to seem eternally right. So they cannot tolerate a change in words whose spelling, as every foreigner and every native child perceives, is absurd.

A SOUND DECISION

The Internal Revenue Bulletin, Volume 3, Number 5, on page 5, in a ruling as to tax-exemption of salaries of public officials, says:

"The compensation received for services rendered in connection with a municipally owned water system is not exempt from income tax."

"The salaries of the manager or the employees of cafeterias conducted in connection with public schools are not exempt from income tax."

Just simple little paragraphs but based on the sound premise that the operation of a city water works, municipal street railway or other publicly operated non-governmental undertaking is not a governmental function of a city or state which would exempt it or its employees from taxation.

Then why should the income from bonds and securities sold to build or carry on publicly owned industries of a non-governmental character, be subject to tax-exemption? Where is the distinction between wages earned or income earned from such undertakings?

This decision may knock a hole in the tax-exempt bond farce and pour millions into the federal treasury from persons who now escape their just share of taxation.

A bill has been introduced in the British parliament to restore to travelers the right to buy drinks during prohibited hours. Has the time come when the British government has to encourage Englishmen to travel?

Layer-on-layer Negligees Are Often Built on Pajama Lines.

THEY say that before long the night gown for women will be as obsolete as the night shirt is to men at the present time and the pajama will be the universal sleeping garment of us all. Meantime men continue to wear lounging robes and long-skirted negligees while women more and more are wearing the pajama type of garment for all new occasions.

Certainly there is no longer anything specially masculine-looking about the pajama negligee. It is as feminine as any gown or robe could possibly be.

One interesting layer-on-layer negligee ensemble has pajamas of peach-colored crepe. The legs of the pajamas are edged with a wide border of ostrich and marabout. With them is worn a coat of the same peach-colored crepe which has a wide border of the ostrich and marabout.

WISE AND OTHERWISE

By MARY MARSHALL
MASHED VS. PUREE OF POTATOES

A WELL-KNOWN instructor of domestic science once observed that housewives would have more respect for the cloths they cleaned and dusted and washed things with around the house, if they stopped calling them "rags." Call them cloths instead and treat them with respect and cleaning and dish-washing and dusting won't be such drudgery.

And here is an English writer who says that one of the reasons why English mashed potatoes are so inferior to the same dish in France and elsewhere is because in England they use the word "mashed." In France they speak of "puree." The puree of France may be of varying degrees of moistness, but it can always be trusted to be both smooth and well seasoned.

Some of the best of mashed potatoes in this country are made in a machine specially constructed for that purpose and undoubtedly some of the worst. The fact is that while it is important to have them thoroughly mashed and beaten, much depends on the seasoning and the method of cooking the potatoes before they are mashed.

You may cook the potatoes either with their skins or without. You will find both methods advocated by good authorities. In either event the potatoes should be done just enough that is perfectly cooked with out being sodden. The ymash should be beaten with a heavy spoon and beaten until they become light and smooth and of creamy color.

WHOS WHO AND WHAT'S HAPPENED

SALLY LEE gives up her position as public stenographer in a fashionable hotel when she marries. She is a bit of a snob and she is afraid that if she stayed here she would stay and things to Tom that she would always expect.

Tom, a young real-estate salesman, Time hangs heavy on her hands and she wants to turn to work, but he objects until he loses his job and their money is all gone.

TODAY'S INSTANTMENT

XI—A BOARDING-HOUSE WIFE

THE first few mornings after they moved to the boarding-house, Tom rushed through breakfast with Sally and hurried out, stuffing the morning paper in his pocket. Of all the boarded-up places, Sally knew that when he left her at the Grand Central station, he went to the Public Library and joined the ranks of men there studiously looking through the want ads.

After awhile he didn't seem to care what the other boarders thought. He came down to breakfast late, often just as Sally was leaving and hung around their small little room much of the day.

"My husband is just making a new business connection," Sally explained to the landlady. "and he doesn't have to go to his office regularly just yet."

But that showed women saw through Sally's polite fiction. She had known men out of work before and the numerous lies with which they were attempting to shield them and soothe their pride.

Sally hurried up the stairs eager to tell Tom that she had a post to one of the big movie theaters, given to her by one of the men from whom she had taken detention that day.

But when she went into their stuffy room and found Tom reading what was a mass of circular letters in front of him, her spirits fell. This was another of those days when he would resent her success. Better give up the prospect of a pleasant evening at the movies, rather than see another row with him. They were getting so frequent nowadays.

"Let's go over to see Emily and Jack after dinner," she suggested hesitantly. "We could walk up there."

"I don't," Tom answered gruffly. "What's about all I get nowadays? I don't even go to City Hall Park up to 8 o'clock today. Heard about a fellow a fellow I ran into down at the Civil Service application office. But when I got there it was filled."

"I wonder," she mused. "The only people Tom ever spoke of nowadays were brother unfortunates he picked up in employment agencies or at the library."

Sally turned with a sigh to their box, the object of her going in her own mind. Then seeing his lying on a sofa, she picked it up, bunched it and started to hang that up.

Tom uttered from her chair and began counting on the money for that week's board. She had expected from him his. "You always told me to share my money with you, didn't you?" he asked. "I don't need to do that, do you?"

"I don't need to do that, do you?" he asked. "I don't need to do that, do you?"

Tom was reading about ads.

predicted it would," the sallow little face of Tom left no doubt as they were leaving the table. And Sally couldn't keep her voice from sounding just a bit and insincere when she asked, "Oh yes, of course I am proud of his judgment?"

She turned on upstairs without him and rushed to the window looking out into the night for a solution of her problem. She wanted to remember the magic of those evenings when she and Tom used to stroll hand in hand along Broadway, planning their future. But there was no long road ahead of her here where leafy trees cast romantic shadows, no lights like jewels cast reflections on the flinty water. There were only hard yards and refuge and half-shut, spindly windows.

With a gasp, Sally remembered that she had turned away from the window, which ever to the dinner and began counting on the money for that week's board. She had expected from him his. "You always told me to share my money with you, didn't you?" he asked. "I don't need to do that, do you?"

Officials Visit Meeting of Onetah Council

The members of Onetah Council No. 56, Degree of Free Masons, were honored at their meeting last night by a visit of Mrs. Ros. Davis, district deputy, and Rosa Benvenuti, past great Pastmaster. The meeting was devoted to business only and was presided over by John Novello, Past Master.

It was unanimously agreed to accept the invitation of the Richmond district of Americanization to take part in a parade to be held on the near future. Full plans will be completed within a few days for this event, and the elements of the part this organization will take in the affair will be announced when all plans have been arranged.

At the meeting, there was a presentation of a letter from the past master of the lodge, which was read by the district deputy. It was decided to enter into the matter in more detail at the next meeting.

ARE YOU WILLING TO SLAVE YOUR LIFE AWAY WITHOUT INSURING YOUR FUTURE?

There are thousands of people in Richmond as elsewhere---who work year in and year out without making any headway. They handle three, four or five thousand dollars a year, but nothing sticks. They enjoy no real progress---no accumulation

Perhaps you, reader, are one of those people. If you are and if you are callous about it and do not care to correct it, then this announcement is not for you.

If, however you believe that wise investment (which can be paid in small monthly installments) may yet do for you what it has done for all the well-to-do business men you ever heard of, then read on.

There is at this moment in Richmond a larger, finer and more profitable investment plum than is usually offered to public participation. It is the newly formed $75,000 Department Store of Harry Marcus, Incorporated, which will be situated in the splendid Odd Fellows Building that is now being erected on Tenth Street, especially to accommodate this business.

If you do not believe that this is an unusual opportunity, then we ask you to try to buy an interest in The Emporium of San Francisco— (with whom Mr. Marcus was connected for years)—or the B. F. Schlesinger and Sons, Company, which just bought out a number of Pacific Coast department stores, including Kahns', of Oakland or the J. C. Penney Company or Albert's, Incorporated of Richmond.

You cannot buy such stock because the people who own it won't sell it and the reason they won't sell it is clear to anyone who knows the least bit about department store earnings.

The President and Manager of Marcus, Incorporated—Harry Marcus—came to Richmond seven or eight years ago with very little money; so little that you would laugh if you knew the amount. With that small amount and his credit, he was able to buy a controlling interest in the store located at that time at 7th and Macdonald Ave., because that business was on its very last legs. It was just one jump ahead of the sheriff.

Promptly however, that store began to blossom like a cherry tree in Spring—perhaps you remember. It took on a new lease of life almost over night and within three months it was doing a business that seemed unbelievable to the former owners.

A few years later, Mr. Marcus had a chance to sell his interest in that enterprise for many times what he paid for it. He sold it and, as many of his friends in Richmond know, he has since travelled extensively in England, Germany, Italy, France, Spain and Holland. He did this to rest and to store up new reserves of ideas and energy which would enable him to do a smashing big job.

Now he's going to put over a real store in Richmond—a modern store with modern ideas for modern people. Rest rooms—children's play rooms, telephone rooms, beauty parlors, a branch post office and dozens of special departments, including a lively grocery division will put this store on the map so fast you won't be able to say Jack Robinson.

The capitalization for such a business ($75,000) is small—very small—but it is enough. Also most of the stock has been sold before this announcement appears in print. It was brought up by Richmond business and professional men who know the great possibilities of such an investment.

If you are at all interested, NOW is the time to act, not tomorrow, not next week but NOW—because this stock will be sold with despatch AND when the last share is sold no amount of money can buy another.

Also, we must add that if you have no faith in the future of Richmond or if you know Harry Marcus and don't believe in him your money is not wanted. If, however, you realize that the future of Richmond is rich in possibilities and if you have faith in the business acumen and enterprise of Harry Marcus, here's your chance to give your hard earned dollars a good, fair American chance to make some money for you.

The stock is sold only in units of 2 shares of preferred with 1 share of common $50 a share. The preferred stock pays 8 per cent and since there is no bonded indebtedness, except current items, the preferred stock is in effect at first mortgage on the business. The common stock participates fully in the profits of the business after preferred dividends are paid. Dividends have been paid regularly on both preferred and common stock.

The unit of sale is 2 preferred, and 1 common at $150 per unit. It will be sold on ten monthly installments of $15 each. The preferred stock is callable in part or whole on or after July 1, 1926, at $55, plus dividends. Larger units may be arranged for but always in the proportion of two shares of preferred with one share of common.

Mail or bring in your order now with remittance, or send for descriptive folder without delay.

DEATH HELD AS SUICIDE

At an inquest conducted Wednesday night by Coroner C. F. Donnelly, it was brought out that Wilford Henderson, 36 year old Oakland man whose body was found at the Shrinag camp on April 25, committed suicide by shooting himself with a .22 calibre bullet. Although the testimony clearly indicated suicide, no motive was brought out at the inquest.

Mrs. Catherine G. Henderson, widow, stated on the witness stand that her husband had never threatened to take his life, but that she believed his death was a clear case of suicide.

Mrs. Belle Richards Dies in Long Beach

The burial of Mrs. Belle Richards, well known in this city, who had completed the "Apalpus Apartment" for several years, will be held in Richmond. Mrs. Richards passed away after a short illness in Long Beach, where she went a year ago to take a position with the "Apalpus" plant. She is survived by her husband, a daughter, Mrs. Frank Higgins, a son, Harold Higgins, and a son, Harold Higgins, Brimley, Oakland. Deceased was a grand officer in the Pythian Sisters and a member of the Amaranth and Acantha chapter of the Eastern Star.

STROM ENLARGES SALES AGENCY

J. P. Strom, automobile merchant, has just secured a 5-year lease from James McMullen of Sebastopol, on the auto sales rooms at 1301 Macdonald avenue, in order that he might enlarge his business to take care of the increased sales and big business. Strom has also leased his present establishment at 1221 and a member of the Amaranth and Acantha chapter of the Eastern Star.

While H. Romans of Solis, California, was enjoying a show at the fair last night, some one drove off in his Chevrolet and light street and Macdonald avenue. Romans reported the loss to the police immediately, and stated that his machine was of the touring car type, with a black body and grey disk wheels.

When Harry Curry moves to his new establishment about September 1, Strom will immediately move into the building. Several thousand dollars will be spent in remodeling the two locations, including painting and painting.

TROUT FISHING PROSPECT GOOD AS MAY BEGINS

Although prospects for the opening of the trout season on May 1 are somewhat clouded by high and muddy water in some of the larger streams in the Sierra and North Coast districts, the smaller streams in the Sierras and about all of those in the coast counties are expected to furnish the anglers with some ideal sport, the fishing bureau of the California State Automobile association announced yesterday.

According to reports gathered by George S. Grant, manager of the association's fishing bureau, from 25 district offices in Northern and Central California, the prospects of Walton who lives the "ins and outs" of using live bait should have a fairly successful day. In most places the water is not yet clear enough for fly fishing and in some instances it is reported that conditions on the higher portions of the streams will not be ideal until July 1.

From Marin, Sonoma, Mendocino, San Mateo, Santa Cruz and Monterey counties come reports that the streams are well stocked with brook trout and that although certain streams are somewhat high, the sportsmen who make good use of live bait should have a good measure of success on the evening day.

The Red River in Lake county is not expected to furnish good fishing for a few weeks yet on account of high water, but Bear Creek and Rice Creek near Hufville will both be fair on the opening day. Bass fishing is good in clear lake and in Putah Creek.

Yuba reports good conditions in the Klamath and Shasta rivers as well as in Beaver Creek, 20 miles down the Klamath River highway. All of these streams are said to be full of trout.

Reports from Redding indicate that Buttonwood Creek, Spina Creek, Hat Creek, Lost Creek, and the Sacramento, Putah and Yuba rivers are all very high and the water is muddy. Many of the smaller streams where conditions will be better will be difficult to reach on account of road conditions.

Reports from the San Joaquin valley state that most of the opening-day fishing in the vicinity of Fresno will be done in the lower part of the Kings river in Bass Lake.

Trusts vs. Radios In City Twilight Game Here Tonight

Tonight's game in the Richmond City Twilight Ball league is scheduled between the Mercantile Trust and the Richmond Radio at the First street park. Both teams have been going strong ever since the opening of the season and it is expected that some strong competition will be witnessed tonight.

Last Tuesday's game was called off on account of the poor condition of the Twenty-third street park, where it was scheduled to be played between the Schneider Tailors and the Santa Fe.

With an average of 700, P. O'Rourke leads the Schneider Tailors in hitting. In ten trips to the plate seven hits were counted out of O'Rourke and four of them resulted in runs. Daley and Downer are also near the top.

Pullman Team To Play Santa Cruz Nine Next Sunday

The Pullman baseball club, winners of two out of three games, the season, will journey to Santa Cruz to tangle with the team of that city on Sunday, leaving in a big auto stage, accompanied by some 50 supporting fans. The Pullmans are improving every day and expect to return with one more scalp taken in an easy way by means of heavy swinging on their war clubs.

McCarroll has his ever-ready arm all lined up to step into the box at the first call of "Play ball," but it will be a long time before he can do so. The Pullmans are now in a class with the best of the city and will be a real test for the Pullmans when they meet the team of Santa Cruz.

A new and valuable utility man has been signed on by Hutton, in the person of Sherrard, late of the Phoenix, Arizona copper league, who is good in the infield and outfield and always there in an emergency. This latest addition is expected to strengthen the team to a great extent.

Tailors To Play Nelson Paints of Oakland Sunday

On Sunday afternoon, May 10, beginning at 3:30 sharp, the first street ball park will be the scene of a struggle between two of the best ball teams in the city. These are the Schneider Tailors and the Nelson Paints of Oakland.

The local fans will keep the reputation of the Tailors. Last Sunday they defeated the Pullmans 15 to 9, and they have little doubt of their ability to duplicate the victory Sunday with Jess Carter on the mound and Bartoli behind the bat.

The Oakland Elks, The California Door Company and The Broadway Department store have all met defeat at the hands of the Nelson Paints, so they are expected to be one of the fastest clubs around Oakland. The Schneider line-up will contain some very promising hitters this Sunday, including H. Bonham, who is batting .666 and whose work in right field is in the neighborhood of 1000. A likely prospect also is J. Hutton, who makes third base his playground.

Craig 52 points, 10 ringers; O'Brien 31 points, 4 ringers;
Cornell 50 points, 6 ringers; Smith 31 points, 2 ringers;
Ballwanz 52 points, 1 ringer; Ward 30 points, 1 ringer;
O'Connor 50 points, 8 ringers; Rodman 27 points, 7 ringers;

Golf Players at Fairmeade Course In Large Numbers

Great numbers of professional and amateur golfers have been attracted to the Fairmeade Golf course since the opening of the temporary nine holes a week ago, according to Arthur Whiting, pro in charge. After trying it out, the course has been pronounced one of the most interesting in the West by veteran golfers. An eagle on the ninth hole with a brassie by W. P. Stevenson of Berkeley, is one of the outstanding plays to date.

Ten miles of pipe line have been laid over the grounds for the purpose of watering the five thousand trees now being planted there, and to keep the fairways green throughout the year.

The players now have the use of steel lockers and showers. Hand-wash floors are being installed in the clubhouse, which is nearing completion.

Roosevelt Play Edison Nine Here

The ten pound nine of the Roosevelt Junior high school walloped the Edison Juniors of Berkeley, at Berkeley to the tune of 10 to 1, Wednesday afternoon. The Edison's want more so there will be a return game played here this afternoon.

The baseball season, as far as the Roosevelt high is concerned, will be wound up next Saturday, when the 125-pound team tackles a team of the same weight from Kenny Park, Oakland at the First Street grounds. The game will be played in the morning.

Boys Clubs Play For Trophy Cup

The Y. M. C. A. boys club baseball league will play their scheduled games at the Y field on Saturday. The game at 9 a. m. will be played between the Pirates and the Sam Houston; 10:30 game between the Kinley Klan and the Abe Lincoln's.

The afternoon games will be played between the Mohawks and Shawnees, No. 2 of 1 a. m. and Shawnees No. 1 and the Vikings at 2:30 p. m. The Abe Lincoln's are now leading the league and competition is getting keen between the clubs.

The beautiful cup that will be presented to the winners is on display at the Y. M. C. A. and will be on display in one of the local stores next week.

Richmond Keys And Firemen To Play Ball Today

At a late hour last night, Manager W. P. Cooper of the Firemen and Tex Brown of the Richmond Key ball clubs were interviewed and they both stated that their men were all in pink of condition for the little controversy to be settled once for all at the First street ball park, beginning at 10 a. m. today. Both managers had their charges tucked between the sheets before 8:30 p. m. yesterday, so they will arise bright and early this morning full of vim and vigor and be primed for some hot action.

New England Sea Story Filmed at The California Theatre Here Today

When Joseph C. Lincoln's "The Toll of the Sea" is most famous novel of New England up to that time, thousands of his readers longed for a sight of Cape Cod and the ocean characters who peopled his books. Lincoln's latest successful novel, "Doctor Nye," has just as colorful a locale and just as interesting characters, and through the efforts of Thomas H. Ince, his associate producer, may now see the Lincoln characters with their own eyes.

"Doctor Nye" has been filmed under the title "Idle Tongues," and this first National picture is coming to the California theatre starting today. The picture is given an excellent cast, Percy Marmont, Doris Kenyon, Charles Gilmore, David Torrence, Madeline M. Grey, Lucille Ricksen, Dan Mason, Vivian Ogden, Marguerite Clayton, Mark Hamilton.

A meeting of the general committee of the Sunday school track meet has been called for tonight at the Y. M. C. A. at 8 p. m. to outline the program and to gather in the loose ends of the business that is to be straightened out. The registration of the entrants is progressing in the shape according to J. W. Deering, physical director of the Y. M. C. A.

The Baptist boys and young men have already started their training and are under the supervision of R. A. Mueller and M. Church.

All the representatives of the churches are requested to be present.

"Toll of the Sea" In Natural Colors at Richmond Today

The technical perfection of the "Toll of the Sea" in perfect natural colors, as the feature screen attraction at the Richmond theatre today and tomorrow. Something about "The Toll of the Sea"

"For each joy the sea washes up, it sweeps away two."

All who live upon the coast of China know this proverb, which has come down from centuries before Christ. Lotus Flower knows it, yet when the sea washed up Alien Carver upon the yellow sand and she fell simply and forever in love with him she forgot that the proverb which had held true for a thousand generations was still true. She nursed him to health and believed him when he said, "I am going to America now, but I will come back for you." Like all men, the rewards in years waited, waiting across the China Sea.

There is more to the story of "The Toll of the Sea" than this; and more than the story to the picture, for it is destined, critics think, to revolutionize photoplays. It is in full color, not crude, raw flashes on the screen, but true color, like a lower garden in the morning sunshine. Two scientists of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology worked seven years to perfect it. You should not miss "The Toll of the Sea."

Minstrel Show Entertains Large Audience

The "Hobbs' Convention" arrived in Richmond by special car last night and started a minstrel show of the finest and most humorous character seen in this city for many months. There was a very good attendance, and the audience of the Lincoln school, where the performance was staged, rang with laughter from the beginning to the end of the show.

Between the acts, the Richmond orchestra kept the audience keyed up for the rise of the next curtain by furnishing a number of popular pieces. The minstrel was brought here by "Tex" Brown for the benefit of the Affiliated Farmers' Social club of Richmond, and he feels very well repaid for his efforts, both in a financial way and in the time entertainment given the public of Richmond.

Taxi Driver Saves Gas, Makes Money Renting Cab as "Smoke Room"

A thrifty New York taxi driver of Connecticut ancestry has discovered a way to keep the money coming in without using gas and wearing out tires. Every day he parks his car in the theatre district and he has a number of regular customers who occupy it during the ten and fifteen minute intervals. They always insist upon paying more than the regular waiting as they enjoy their smoke more there than in a stuffy inside smoking room. The photograph shows a pretty "fare" enjoying the comfort of the taxi smoke room.

C. F. Donnelly Presented Life Card By Moose

With very fitting ceremonies, the new officers of the Loyal Order of Moose, No. 550, were installed in Moose hall last night by Deputy Past Dictator, Joe Gardella. Those installed were William Vosbeck, dictator, M. J. Kelly, vice-dictator; E. Burman, perlator; Theodore Iverson, treasurer; J. Alexander and Harry Martin trustees; P. P. Barry, Sr., sergeant at arms; Harry Maudnet, inner guard; and Felix Baptisti, outside guard.

After the installation, the outstanding dictatorial, C. F. Donnelly, was presented with a life membership card in the Moose lodge. P. P. Barry, Sr., presented the card with a few words of extreme eloquence and the recipient of the valuable gift responded in like manner. The members also presented Donnelly, in appreciation for his services as dictator during the past year, with a very beautiful corn cob pipe. This gift, too, was received in a very fitting way.

Upon the completion of the ceremonies in connection with the presentation of the gifts, all the members present sat down to a very ladylike banquet—bobby-dingers and cocoa.

This evening, Friday, at 6:30 sharp the Moose as a whole are going to depart for Pittsburgh. They will stop at Martinez to take with them the members of the lodge of that city.

The Richmond drill team and drum corps will also be in the company. It is expected that the Richmond drill team will put on the initiatory work at Pittsburgh. The members have a pleasant anticipation of the banquet which reports indicate is being prepared for them.
